Remote email

To retrieve your email from home you must first log onto the Bay Path web site and access the faculty section tab. Once on the faculty page you will see a link for remote email. Select this link.

You will be presented with a dialogue box where you must log into the Bay Path email server. This login is the same as your main Bay Path account with one exception, You must precede your user name with the word "baypath" and separate the two with a backslash. An example of this would be for me to log in with my Bay Path user name "kdesautels". I would login as follows: baypath\kdesautels then enter my Bay Path account password in the password field.
